Expensive Taste

Pat McGrath's Gold 001 pigment has gotten a lot of play since she created the gilded mouths at Prada. Fueled by a social media takeover in the Tuileries during Paris Fashion Week, the limited-edition pots sold out almost immediately. But there is more than one way to a C-3PO lip. While others resort to begging McGrath for it in her Instagram comments (cringe), take the high road and recreate the look by brushing on a gold-flecked gloss or repurposing a metallic eyeshadow.

Royal Treatment

While some equate tiaras with spray-tanned toddlers and pageant queens, others think of Kate Middleton or Courtney Love in her prime. This spring, the polarizing topper turned up on the runways at Saint Laurent, Louis Vuitton and Miu Miu, giving accessories a regal touch.

Sundial

Makeup artists used bronzer to deliver a range of golden filters, from convertible-top-down, sun-kissed skin at Michael Kors to well-tanned surfers at Dsquared.
